

Hey, I know you care about MMC and I know there are issues going on right now but apparently we now have no toilet paper left in the hospital. I know sharps containers are an issue too because the er was overflowing and somehow they found some to swap out but from what I'm hearing there are no more of those either. I'm also hearing cleaning wipe are depleted as well. Just trying to give you some info from the ground floor in case you're not hearing this kind of stuff. I can get by with not having some things but when it comes to safety I feel like I have to say something.
